

Paksuda Piluek 2006: Job Performance Satisfaction of Agriculture Extensionist in Bangkok Metropolitan. Master of Science (Agriculture), Major Field: Agricultural Extension, Department of Agricultural Extension and Communication. Thesis Advisor: Assistant Professor Anuporn Suwanvajukkasikij, M.Ed. 76 pages.
ISBN 974 – 16 – 2432 - 8

The objectives of the research were to study certain basic backgrounds of Agriculture Extensionist in Bangkok Metropolitan, job performance satisfaction, the difference between job performance satisfaction and the difference of satisfactory level in agricultural educating in different ways, classified by some basic characteristics, problems, obstacles and working advices of Agricultural educators in Bangkok area.

The research were finding as follow: Most of them were male and had more than 45 years of age, 89.5% got Master's degree, 55.3% married, 36.8% were at 6 status level, 52.6% had more than 20 years of service, 50 % Have worked in the current area for less than 5 years. 57.9% Earn above 20,000 bath salary. And 73.7 % live in central part of Thailand. Satisfactory level of AE in their workplaces, high to low; forms of work, relationship with co-workers, relationship with leaders, respect gain, work atmosphere, welfare, chance of progression, and security.

From the pole, genders and education don't effect Bagkok-area AE's satisfaction in workplaces. Ages effects the satisfaction in term of respect gain, security and welfare. Marital status does effect the work satisfaction in security and welfare. And position influences the satisfaction in almost every part except work atmosphere and relationship with co-workers. Years of work effects the satisfaction in security and welfare. Years of working in the current area has an influnce in forms of work, chance of progression, security and welfare. Income has an effect in security and welfare. And hometown effects the satisfaction in almost every way except security and welfare.

Student's signature

Thesis Advisor's signature

29 / 05 / 06