There are two objectives of the project. The first one is to evaluate the Development Project Operations of Bangna police station.

The second one is to analysis the dependent and independent variables i.e., Bangna Police Station's project operations and services and clients' backgrounds and time services.

This study is based upon a survey research which has been sampled around 250 clients during September, 1999 to October, 1999.

The study has found that Bangna police station services is in middle level and clients backgrounds have no effect to the different service activities except occupation as well as time services.
