URAI RAT CHANABUMROONG : A STUDY OF FACTORS AFFECTING JOB SATISFACTION OF EDUCATION OFFICERS IN THE OFFICES OF DISTRICT EDUCATION. THESIS ADVISOR : ASST. PROF. NATNIPA COOPARAT, Ph.D. 119 pp. ISBN 974-636-158-9.

The purpose of this research was to study factors affecting job satisfaction of education officers in the offices of district education. A set of questionnaires was constructed, and 922 copies were sent to education officers in the offices of district education. Eight hundred and forty four copies of them (85.08%) were returned. The data were analyzed by the statistic package for social science version x and presented in items of percentage, arithmetic means, pearson correlation coefficients and stepwise multiple regression analysis.

The results of this research were as follows:

1. The job satisfaction of education officers in the offices of district education was at the middle level.
2. In general, factors affecting job satisfaction of education officers were recognition, supervision, salary, work itself, advancement and job security.
