

Title : A COMPARISON OF THE QUALITY AND CUTTING SCORE OF
THE TESTS WRITTEN BY ITEM SPECIFICATION AND FASET DESIGN.

Author : Miss Saifon Vibulrungson

Adviser: Asst. Prof. Dr. Samran Mejang.

Type of work : Thesis (M.ED. Educational Measurement) , Naresuan University, 1999

The purpose of this study was to compare the quality and study cutting score of the tests written by Item Specification and Faset Design. The item writers were six graduate students, majoring in Educational Measurement of Naresuan University, 1997, selected by purposive sampling. The samples of this study were 331 Pratom Suksa four students from elementary schools under control of Primary Education Office, City District, Sukhothai, in the acadamic year of 1998. selected by simple random sampling using school - group as sampling unit.

The results of the study revealed that :

The discrimination of the tests written by Item Specification and Faset Design were not significantly difference.

The reliability of the tests written by Item Specification and Faset Design were not significantly difference.

The structure validity of the tests written by Item Specification and Faset Design were not significantly difference.

The cutting score of the tests written by Item Specification and Faset Design were equal 17.