

Abstract

Title Awareness and Acceptance of special law enforcement a Case study :security problem solving in southern provinces Area

Field strategy

Name Col. Wirach kamonsil

Course NDC Class 54

This individual research aims to study the rational, principle and reasons of each level of the situation that should be the indicators for the period of enforcing the special law to solve each problem or situation Moreover, it is intended to compare each article of each special law and the intention of the State of Emergency Law including the study of attitude of both people who are enforced by the law and the officer who use the law, concerned with the awareness, acceptance and understanding in using the special law the southern province area. Multi research methods are used, qualitative research is for studying and analyzing the content and using quantitative research by analyzing collected data to percentage, mean, standard deviation, average T score and Chi square, It aims to acknowledge every sectors to understand, aware and accept including be well corporation, This should be effected for developing the proper patterns of special law enforcement to be more efficient in security problem solving.