The purpose of this research is to study and compare the needs in a Thai Muslim community for services of the secondary school in Thai Muslim community in service area of Klongyangprachanusorn school.

The instruments use for data collection are questionnaires sent to the sample of 200 subjects. The statistics used in data analysis include mean and percentages.

The results of the study reveal that:

There are no fundamental differences in the needs among the Thai Muslim subjects as regard to certain characteristic of parent, level of religious belief, and economic status.
