

The purpose of this thesis is to design and implement a Thai Terminal Emulator program compatible with the VT220 terminal. The program has enhanced features and will run on an IBM PC with THAI capacity. It can operate with Hercules or EGA/VGA video adaptor cards using graphic mode. The design is based on ease of use and efficiency. An enhanced feature is the file transfer capability between DOS and the host computer.