

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and deep appreciation to my major advisor, Assistant Professor Dr. Paskorn Sritipsukho for his guidance, valuable advice, encouragement, supervision, discussion and statistical advice. And I am grateful and appreciate to Assistant Professor Dr. Kongkiat Kulkantrakorn, my co-advisor, for his guidance, valuable advice, and supervision with respect for my independence and patience with my mistakes. I would like to sound the very special thank to all of them for their kindness, encouragements, constructive comments, and carrying a work through to the end.

Associate Professor Dr. Wimolwan Heangkeaw, physical therapists, occupational therapist, speech therapist, nurse, stroke patients: for introducing me to develop the VCD for home rehabilitation. Your constructive criticism, valuable advice and your great knowledge and experience of rehabilitation and research have been of great importance for my development.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and deep appreciation to Associate Professor Dr. Tawanchai Jirapramukpitak, Dr. Sutee ratanamongkolgul, Associate Professor Dr. Witsanu Kumthornthip, Associate Professor Dr. Wichit Suppametagkul and Dr. Aree petlert for their support and suggest even when they were busy.

I would to thank all physicians, nurses, especially Ms. Urai Kammak, stroke patients at Thammasat University Hospital, for helping with all kinds of things, including give me convenience for data collection in all study periods.

Mrs. Naiyana Patcharapisan, for her friendship, interesting discussions and the laughs we have shared over the years has been most valuable.

I also thank to the Thammasat University for some scholarship support. And I have to give thank to my appreciated language editor who do not need to show her name.

Above all, I wish to express my infinite thanks and appreciation to my parents and everyone in my family including phanita for their constant love, kindness, encouragement, willpower and understanding.

Pakarattee Chaiyawat
Thammasat University
2009