

Acknowledgement

This thesis will never be accomplished without assistances and inspiring guidance from numerous individuals. I would like to devote this page to express my deep gratitude to them. I am most indebted to Assistant Professor Dr. Sivaporn Nakhachai, my thesis advisor, for the constant reading and invaluable comments. My gratitude also goes to Assistant Professor Dr. Malinee Kaewnate and Associate Professor Dr. Soranat Tailanga, the chair and the member of thesis committee, for the generous attentiveness and constructive criticism. In addition, I am very grateful to Associate professor Chusak Pattarakulvanit, Dr. Prapassaree Kramer and Mr. Jeffrey Kramer for their kind advices and supports.

I owe my deepest gratitude toward my family members for continuous sacrifice, love and understanding during my four years of MA. Being only hope among my desperations, god only knows what I would be without them.

I also wish to thank my graduate friends for their encouragement and suggestions, and my undergraduate friends for their support and understanding. Finally, with my most appreciation, I am obliged to thank Maytawee Holasut and Sutida Wimuttikosol who kindly provide assistance, guidance and motivation through the process of my thesis and study.
