

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research study could not have been completed without great assistance and support of many individuals. First of all, I would like to express my deepest gratitude and sincere appreciation to my adviser, Assistant Professor Tanom Tiensawangchai, for his generous guidance, valuable suggestions and continuous encouragement throughout this study.

My immense gratitude is also extended to all instructors and staff at the Language Institute, Thammasat University, and all my beloved friends for their sympathetic support and help.

Besides, sincere thanks are given to the foreign tourists for their cooperation in providing me with useful information which made this study successful.

Most significantly, I am eternally indebted to my family for giving me the great chance to continue my study in Master's degree as well as their unlimited kindness and support since the first day I took this course.

Thammasat University
Bangkok, Thailand

Kornrat Komalodaka
March 2009