

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The accomplishment of this study could not be achieved without the sincere support and assistance from several parties.

First, I wish to express my wholehearted appreciation to Asst. Prof Dr. Ketvatee Porkaew for her generous contribution of time and advice to my independent study.

I also acknowledge the contribution of my friends who helped and encouraged me, as well as my colleagues who gave comments.

Finally, I am extremely grateful to my family for their moral support and encouragement along the way in the process of this research.
