The purpose of this research was to study the administrative problems of elementary schools with hill tribe students enrollment under the jurisdiction of the Office of Tak Provincial Primary Education.

The study revealed that the problems encountered by the schools under study covered all the six areas of administrative tasks. When ranking the problems according to frequencies, the first three in each area were as follows:

1. Problems in academic affairs administration included children's deficiency in speaking and reading Thai, inappropriate curriculum and poor academic achievement.
2. Problems in personnel administration were inadequate teachers, low morale of teachers and inappropriate task assignment.
3. Problems in business and financial administration were delay and mistakes in this area of work, inconvenient and risky communication which made it unsafe to travel to get teacher salary and lack of knowledge and understanding on the part of the officials in charge in performing this task.
4. Problems in student affairs administration were high absence rate, unhealthy students with poor health care and unsuccessful activities.
5. Problems in school plants administration included inadequacy of buildings, teacher houses and special rooms for different activities.
6. Problems in school and community relations administration were inconvenient communication between school and community, low community support in organizing the activities and lack of attempt to create good relationship between school and community as well as other agencies.
