

The purpose of this survey is to study regarding the modification of the bamboo products produced in Phanatnikhom District, Chonburi Province by making a research on bamboo especially used for wicker products, assembling the information collected from the investigation on way of living of the people in wickerwork profession; of analyse the prime data relating to bamboo products, for instance -- its origin, production technique, form planning, structure, work design and product shape which, at present, are being produced in Panatnikom. The wicker work in the research is divided into three major categories: local bamboo products daily used to facilitate the living condition; bamboo produce used to promote the art and culture, and bamboo products used for commercial purposes. The results of the survey will enable us to modify the standards of each bamboo products in each category by maintaining its original and, thus leading to a suitable production technique to best fit the present social and economic conditions, in order to properly continue the wicker business which ideally pronouces our work of art and culture and to preserve wicker profession and mark it as a symbol of Phanatnikhom District and the country.