

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis would not be completed without supports from many people. I hereby would like to express my sincere appreciation to all of them.

I am deeply indebted to my thesis advisor and the chairman of the thesis committee, Dr. Tatre Jantarakolica, for his invaluable advice, useful suggestions, helpfulness and encouragement throughout the period of thesis writing. My gratitude is extended to the thesis committees: Dr. Nessara Sukpanich and Dr. Chayawadee Chai-anant for their intellectual guidances, constructive comments, and time devoted to my thesis.

I am grateful to Thammasat University for granting me the two-year scholarship during my study here. In addition, I would like to thank all the staffs of the graduate program for their great support and Puay Ungphakorn librarians for their generous assistance and hospitality.

Special thanks go to Am, Jew, Him, Lop, Aim, Golf, Jan, Namtip, Rung, Poon, Kaew, P'Mee, P'Tim, P'Pick and P'Bow and all my friends at Chulalongkorn University for their friendship, encouragement, generosity and warm supports throughout years of study in the graduate program.

Last but not least, my greatest gratitude and appreciation goes to my beloved family: my mom and dad and my sister for their unconditional love, care, supports and encouragement.

Finally, any deficiencies, ambiguities and shortcomings in this thesis are solely my own responsibility. All comments and suggestions are welcomed.
