

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This study would never have been completed without the assistances and supports of many people. First of all, I would like to convey my deepest thank to my advisor, Assistant Professor Dr. Ketvalee Porkaew, who spent her precious time reviewing my paper and provided valuable advice and comments on this research.

I have to mention the teachers at Benchamatheputit Phetchaburi School for helping me distribute the questionnaires and all the EP students for their time and information given.

Also, I would like to forward my sincere thanks to all teachers and the staff at the Language Institute Thammasat University and my lovely classmates for their kind assistance throughout the two years of my MA study.

Finally, I wish to offer my personal gratitude to my parents and my sister for their great support and encouragement throughout my life.
