

ABSTRACT

Title of Research Paper : The Quality of Working Life of Yasothon
Hospital's Workers , Yasothon Province
Author : Mr. Somporn Junkaew
Degree : Master of Arts (Social Development)
Year : 2001

The survey concentrated on finding out the quality of working life of Yasothon Hospital's workers and the factors related to it, including some suggestions to develop this working life quality.

A total of 183 Yasothon Hospital's workers located in the Yasothon Hospital, Yasothon Province were included in the study. Questionnaires were used for data collection. Percentage, mean and Chi-square test were employed to analyze the data.

It was found that:

1. The quality of working life of most workers was moderate. The working condition and health of most of them were moderate. They were satisfied with this jobs at a moderate level.
2. The factors significantly related to the quality of working life were sex , work experience, working period in hospital and work expectation.
3. The factors non-significantly related to this quality of working life were age, education, status , economic , status , support from the family and experience in training and seminars.

The following were recommended :

1. A special health promotion program should be held at work place for workers in Yasothon Hospital.

TE 128964

(4)

2. The welfare store and food center for workers should be improved .
Factories and compounds, as well as the surroundings, should also be improved.
Including are the public utilities, such as public telephone booths, ATM , and others in order to provide conveniences to the workers.

3. There should be some activities to create a good understanding among the workers family members , for example , a celebration of the Family's Day , an arrangement of youth camp for workers's children, etc.