

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research could not have been accomplished without the great encouragement, support and facilitation from many people. In particular, my gratitude is expressed to Associate Professor Natchaya Chalaysap for her expert direction, valuable comments and her encouragement to do such a topic. This has substantially improved my independent study.

My appreciation is also extended to all the instructors and staff at The Language Institute for the knowledge and support they have provided me throughout my two years at Thammasart University.

I also thank all the parents and the students who kindly gave their valuable time in answering my questions. And my friend, a teacher, who gave me a hand in collecting the data.

Above all, my appreciation and gratitude go to my family, who have always supported me no matter how difficult a time it was.

Finally, many thanks are also noted to all of my TU and high school gang who were always concerned about my feeling and encouraged me to finish my first independent study.
