

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Doing research is not a one man show task. Researchers, although devoting all of his or her energy and endeavor to finish a study, cannot be successful by him or herself alone. Cooperation of participants, along with suggestions and comments from honorable advisors are indeed the keys to success of all research. Encouragement from family and friends are strongly significant for a researcher at his or her disheartened moments as well.

I, as one of those researchers, have been beholden to all the help and sympathy of people around me; thus, sincerely I would like to express my deep appreciation and acknowledgement to all of them. First of all, I would like to thank all instructors of Language Institute of Thammasat University who encouraged my English development and related knowledge, especially Dr. Supanee Jivasak-Apimas, who opened up my eyes to the world of research; Assistant. Prof. Aree Sa-ardwut, who was really kind and patient to train this hollow-brained student until she could analyze statistical data with SPSS program by herself; and Assist. Prof. Preeyachat Uttamayodhin who professionally gave a whole lot of valuable comments and suggestions to me. Next, I would like to thank my endearing family and friends for their support when I was so tired. Besides, all the help from the administrative staff of the Language Institute of Thammasat University are truly appreciated. Lastly, I would like to give my special thank to all respondents of this study for their time and helpful information.

Last but not least, I hope this research study will be more or less useful for people in this modern age. Please take my apology here if there are any mistakes in this study.

Thammasat University
Bangkok, Thailand

Nualnuch Ngamjettanarom
March 2008