

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This independent study could not have been accomplished without the support of many people. I want to thank all the respondents who spent time completing my questionnaire. I would also like to express my gratitude to my advisor, Arjarn Monnipha Sompong, for her patience in giving me advice and comments about my independent study. Moreover, I would like to thank all the teachers at the Language Institute, Thammasat University, for their support and generosity. Lastly, I would like to give my huge thanks to all friends in the MA program for their encouragement and support. You all have given me the wonderful memories.
