

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I think this research paper is the one of great journeys in my life. It was very challenging for me to complete this independent study, which is the final requirement for the degree of MA, on-time, because I faced many obstacles, such as the time limit and lack of experience in conducting a research paper.

This long journey could not have reached the beautiful destination without the following supporters: Ajarn Wanida Phankaow (my advisor) and Khun Pornprit Chom-in (a senior researcher of KResearch) and my friends who gave me valuable suggestions and tried their best to support me in everyway. Lastly, I wish to convey my gratitude to my mother for her encouragement throughout this study and my father for his great inspiration.

Since this research paper is my first research attempt, any errors remaining are solely my responsibility.
