

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my advisor, Dr. Chanika Gampper, for her valuable guidance, academic support and practical comments. Without her help, this success would not have been achieved.

This study could not have been carried out without the full cooperation of all the respondents in the Master's programs "Teaching English as a Foreign Language" and "English for Career". They not only answered the questionnaires but also took part in the personal interviews.

I would like also to thank all my classmates of TEFL 8 for their friendship and kindness especially Miss Kanokkarn Sirtulanon who encouraged me to the end.

Finally, without the important support of my family, I would not have completed this research. I would like to thank them for their encouragement throughout the two years of my M.A program.
