ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all and foremost, I wish to express my profound gratitude and thank to Asst. Prof. Dr. Anucha Promwungkwa, my advisor and member of the thesis examination committee for his invaluable guidance, constructive suggestions and constant encouragement throughout this piece of work. His generous support, enthusiasm and understanding made this study a success and rewarding experience to me.

Special thanks to this thesis committee: Assoc. Prof. Yongyoot Jaiboon, my chairman of the thesis examination committee for his invaluable guidance.

Special thanks also to all members of this thesis committee: Dr. Suthep Lertsrimongkol and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Itthichai Preechawuttipong, for all of their priceless advices, constructive guidance, and regular assistance throughout this work.

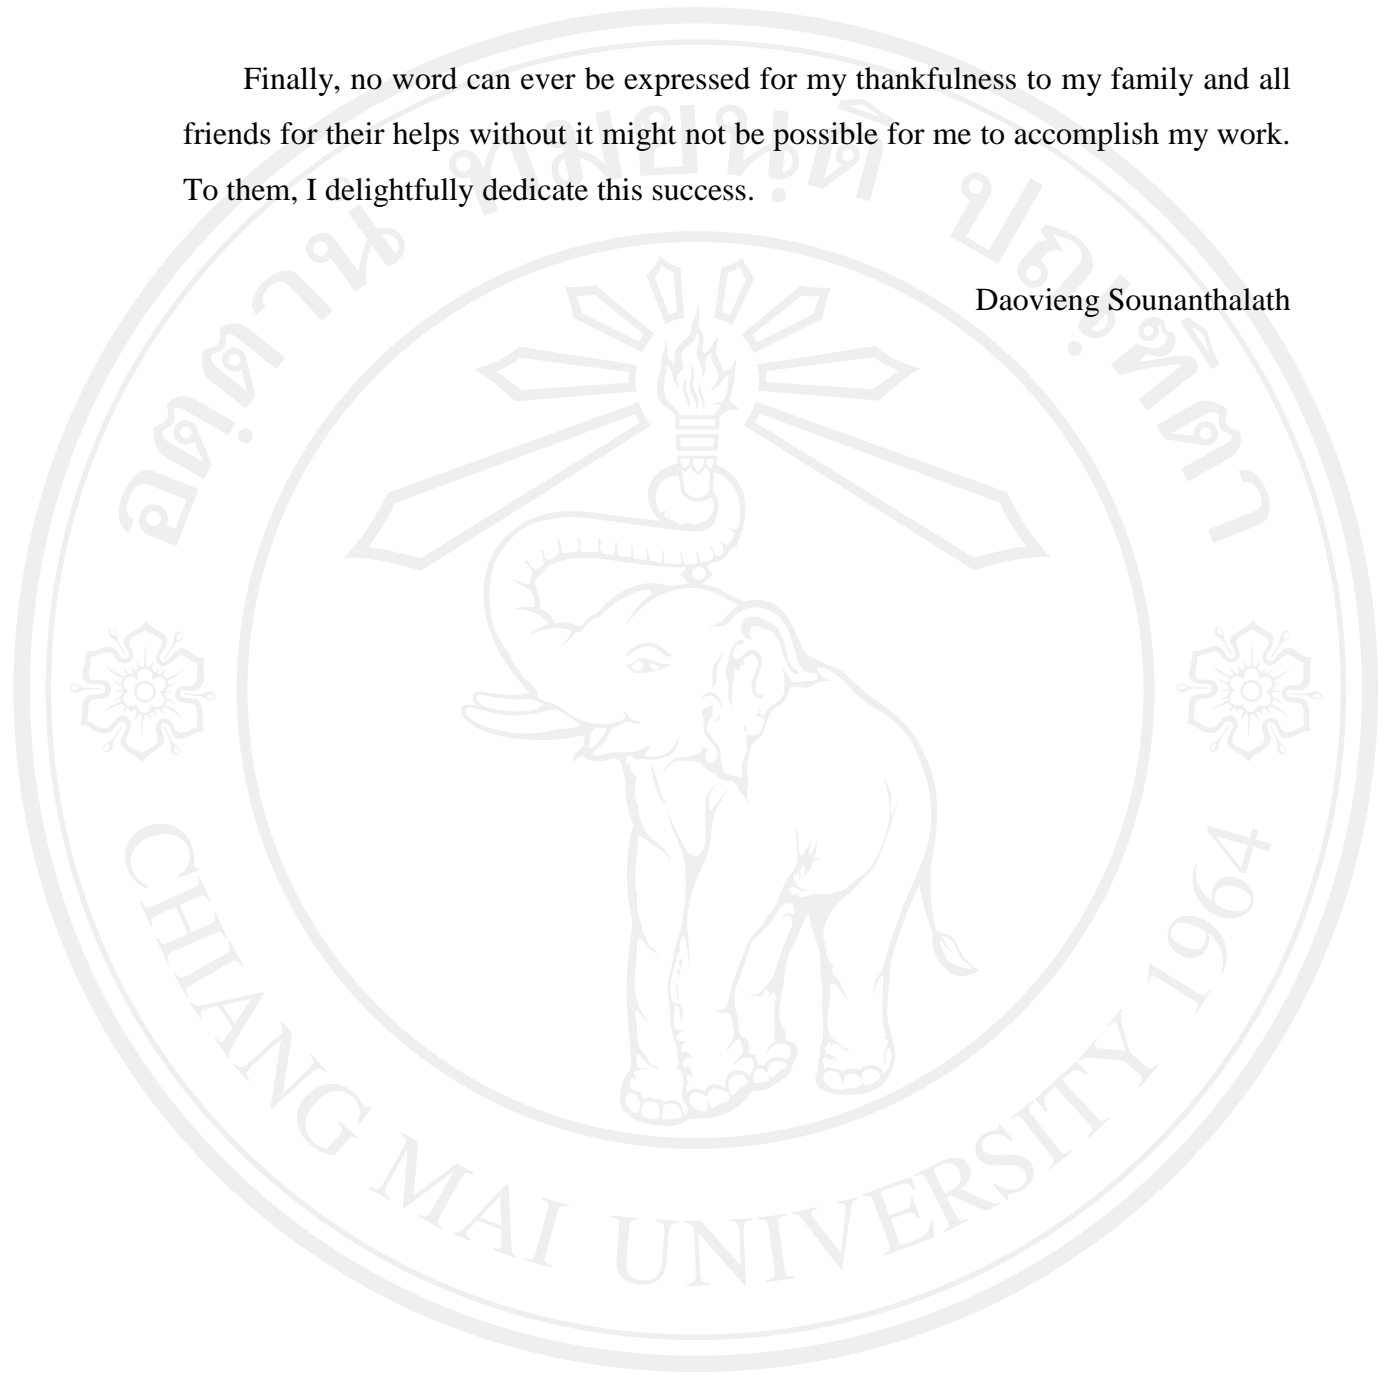

My memorable appreciation would be extended to Dr. Kanchit Ngamsanroj for offering the opportunity of my master's degree study at Chiang Mai University and his colleagues for serving as the counselors for my graduate course enrollments, lodging, and etc.

Also, I would like to thank to Mr. Sarawut Jamrussri, for the invaluable guidance and constant encouragement during conducting the thesis. Similarly, I would be obliged to Mrs. Daungjai Ekapand and her official staff of Mae Moh Training Center of EGAT who always contributed kind cooperation in approach to this success.

In addition, heartfelt thanks are also extended to Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT), Electricite Du Laos (EDL) and Electricite Du Laos Generation Public Company (EDL-Gen). I am deeply indebted to technical and academic collaboration project between EGAT - EDL, for granting me an invaluable opportunity by the way of a full scholarship, which paved the way to achieve my academic goal and complete this thesis and to academic cooperation project between EGAT – Chiang Mai University (CMU) with generous support and constant encouragement to go for postgraduate studies.

Finally, no word can ever be expressed for my thankfulness to my family and all friends for their helps without it might not be possible for me to accomplish my work. To them, I delightfully dedicate this success.
