CHAPTER III MATERIALS AND METHODS	56
3.1 Research Design	56
3.2 Research Setting and Sampling Procedures	56
3.3 Research Participants	58
3.4 Research Instruments	60
3.5 Data Collection	65
3.6 Protection of Participants and Ethical Considerations	66
3.7 Data Analysis	67
CHAPTER IV RESULTS	68
4.1 Demographic data and characteristics of participants	69
4.2 Predictors of HCT service use and intention to use HCT services among sexually experienced Thai youth	77
4.3 Characteristics of youth-friendly HCT services expected by youth	84
CHAPTER V DISCUSSION	95
5.1 Sexual experience among Thai youth, HCT service use among sexually experienced youth and intention to use HCT services among those who have never used HCT services	96
5.2 Predictors of HCT service use and intention to use HCT services among sexually experienced Thai youth	102
5.3 Characteristics of youth-friendly HCT services expected by youth	112

LIST OF TABLES

Table	Page
3.1 Research Setting and Sample Size	60
4.1 Number percentage and prevalence of sexually experienced Thai youths, HCT services used and intention to use HCT services among Thai youth categorized by type of school age, gender and person with whom the youths were living	69
4.2 Numbers percentage and prevalence of sexually experienced, HCT service used and intention to use HCT service among Thai youth categorized by Sexual risk behaviors and perceived risk for HIV infection	72
4.3 HIV knowledge HCI knowledge and awareness and willingness to pay for HCT services among sexually experienced youth categorized by use and intention to use HCT services	74
4.4 Mean and standard deviation of attitude toward HIV testing, perceived AIDS stigma and expectation of characters of YFHCT services among sexually experienced, and those who had used HCT services, and intention to use HCT services	76
4.5 Number and percentage of sexually experienced Thai youths who had used HCT services categorized by knowing blood test results, times HCT services were used and sites where HCT services were used	77
4.6 Binomial multiple logistic regression models of predictors of HCT service use among sexually experienced Thai youths	79
4.7 Multinomial multiple logistic regression models of predictors of unconditional intention to use HCT service among sexually experienced youth who never used HCT service	81
