

BIOGRAPHY

|                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NAME                      | Miss. Thanaporn Thanmarak                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| DATE OF BIRTH             | January 26, 1988                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| PLACE OF BIRTH            | Udonthani, Thailand                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| INSTITUTIONS ATTENDED     | Mahidol University, 2006-2010 Bachelor of Science (Environmental Science and Technology) Mahidol University, 2010-2015 Master of Science (Appropriate technology for resources and environmental development)                                                                                                                                           |
| HOME ADDRESS              | 83/2 Ratchadapisek road, Wat thaphra, Bangkok yai, Bangkok, 10600. Tel. 089-0755093 E-mail: a_kerokerokeroppi@msn.com                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| PUBLICATION/ PRESENTATION | Thanmarak T., Hutacharoen R., Arunlertaree C., Roachanakanan R., Sucharitakul S. The potential of antioxidant contents in native mango seed of Thailand. The proceedings in the 2nd International Conference on Environmental Engineering, Science and Management (EEAT 2th, 2013) at Pullman Khon Kaen Raja Orchid Hotel, Thailand, 27-29 March 2013. |