

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to thank Kasetsart University Research and Development Institute for supporting this research grant. I am grateful to my students in design courses who give me co-learning, multi-tasks in teaching experience, participations in this research, and valuable data. I also want to extend my gratitude to my architecturally professional colleagues who are willing to offer and share their valuable information in design creativity and experience that makes a great contribution to for this study.