AMIC 22ND ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
in partnership with the Department of Communication, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Gadjah Mada
4-7 July 2013, Yogyakarta, Indonesia

Theme: Transformational Communication and the New Asia

Papers now being Accepted

The call for papers for AMIC's 2013 international conference is now in full swing. Under the overall theme Transformational Communication and the New Asia, the conference invites papers on a range of streams:

- New media, old media ethics
- Media and revolution
- New media literacies
- Ethnicity, race and religion in communication
- Communication and youth
- Leadership and the media
- New paradigms in development communication
- Cross-cultural networking
- Health, policy and communication
- Gender and communication
- Media and a free press
- Broadcasting, past and present
- Print communication, past and present
- Media history and evolution
- Freedom of expression in transition societies
- Socio-political development and the media
- Media empowerment
- Communication and social change

The theme seeks to highlight the role of communication and the media in bringing about a 'New Asia', that is, an Asia that is slowly transforming into a 'soft power' as Europe and North America seem to continue their decline.

With economic growth comes 'soft power', seen in the growing global influence of Asian culture, symbolized by, for example, the rising Hollywood and Hong Kong genre in film, Japanese anime and Korean pop music. It is also seen in the Asian presence in various communication channels. Most Asian nations have their own radio and television networks and have reduced their reliance on Western-oriented international news agencies for their world news content. And their social and mobile media presence is overwhelming.

Full details on the submission of papers is available on the conference web site: <http://amic.org.sg/conference/AMIC2013/papers.htm>

PACA Conference Slated for January 2009 in Malaysia

Address from the President

Dear PACA members:

The Pacific and Asian Communication Association is holding its 7th Biennial International Conference in the city of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, on January 10-12, 2009 with a postconference study tour (Jan. 13-15) to Kelantan, a beautiful state on the East Coast of the Malaysian Peninsula, bordering on Thailand.

- Accommodation & Registration -

- Forms you need -

Participants will have opportunities to interact with their counterparts from Malaysia, Indonesia, Korea, Japan, China, the Philippines, Singapore, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Australia, New Zealand, Pacific Islands, Canada and the United States.

The officers of PACA take pride and pleasure in hosting you during our international conference in January, 2009, and we hope that your hectic schedules will allow you some time to be with us. Your presence will contribute so much to the international calibre and scholarship of our conference. Hoping to see you next year in Malaysia, a place where traditional Asian values of hospitality, kindness and respect for elders still thrive and linger, I am

FROM ANZCA PRESIDENT, CHIKA ANYANWU

Welcome to the Australian and New Zealand Communication Association (ANZCA) web site.

Chika Anyanwu PhD, FGLF
Charles Sturt University

ANZCA is the professional association for communication researchers, teachers, and practitioners in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand, and has been in existence since 1980. We interpret communication broadly, to incorporate scholarship and teaching in areas such as media and cultural studies, organisational and interpersonal communication, digital media and Internet studies, public relations, advertising, and journalism, and areas of the creative, visual and performing arts, as well as the professional fields related to these areas of scholarship and teaching.

ANZCA holds an annual international conference in early July each year. ANZCA full members receive discounted conference registration fee, and the Media International Australia journal. ANZCA is affiliated with the International Communication Association and is a foundation member of the Council for the Humanities and Social Sciences in Australia.

ANZCA has a strong postgraduate student membership, and seeks opportunities to support the work of new and emerging scholars. Postgraduate students pay a discounted membership fee and discounted registration fees for the annual conference. There are also a limited number of scholarships to help new and emerging scholars attend ANZCA conferences. There are currently two competitive research awards: The Grant Noble Prize for best paper by a postgraduate student and The Christopher Newell Prize for best paper dealing

Discover What Works at the Research-to-Practice Symposium

The popular Research to Practice Symposium returns this year with a focus on the Discovery of What Works. Presenters will discuss how PI professionals can separate fact from fiction when it comes to the latest research and strategies in the industry. Increase your knowledge and ability to make research-based and data-driven decisions in the workplace.

This year's Research to Practice Symposium will include presentations by:

- Michel Baudin, MITI and Text Times Group: Lean, TQM, Six Sigma, FOC, Agile, BPM and Other Improvement Systems
- Marcus W. Dickson, PhD, Wayne State University: Research on Global Leadership: What Use is it to Me and My Organization?
- Steven Villachica, PhD, Boise State University: When Performance is Fuzzy: The Critical Incident Technique

Community

NEW! APQC/ISPI Study Available to Members
-- Members can find a PDF of Using Metrics that Drive Bottom Line Value, a best practices report ISPI worked in conjunction with the American Productivity and Quality Center to complete. The study uncovered leading practices and approaches associated with successful performance measurement systems. Login to ISPI Collaborate to access the PDF in the PI for Members Only Community.

ISPI & i4cp Join Forces -- ISPI and the Institute for Corporate Productivity (i4cp) have joined forces to conduct a collaborative research study. The purpose of the study is to determine the application and impact of performance improvement efforts at organizations across the world. An email from Kevin Martin, i4cp Chief Research Officer, will be sent to you on Thursday, March 14 (Subject line: ISPI/i4cp survey on performance improvement). Your response is critical to our success. Thanks in advance for your participation.

ISPI Pathfinders on Collaborate
Members and non-members can visit the PI Exchange Community on ISPI Collaborate to access Dean and Ripley's Performance Improvement Pathfinders, Volume 1. Learn about those who crafted our field: B.F. Skinner, Susan Markle, Tom Gilbert, Dale Brethower, Roger Kaufman, and several others. Anyone missing? Create a dialog in the discussion area. #### Using Personal Names in Conversation

Friday, 22 March 2013 12:17  Graham Williamson

Abstract: This brief paper considers the use of personal names in conversations and notes that the feature of address specified under the rules of turn allocation is not required in dyadic conversation. The use of personal names as vocatives that function as parenthetical
