

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This study report has been received the great contribution belonging to these beloved persons. First of all, I would like to convey my respectful gratitude to a superb advisor, Associate Professor Dr. Sucharat Rimkeeratikul, director of the graduate diploma program in English for careers, who always gives motivation, valuable suggestion, comment, and knowledge of conducting research to enlighten me to think initiatively in revising and enhancing the quality of this study. I never forget to thank Ajarn Steven J. Hiatt who first taught me in the effective models of communication and negotiation skills and provided the recommended materials for reviewing literature. This encourages me to select this interesting study. Most importantly, I would like to thank for his proofreading in every spot into this report. The data collection cannot be completed without the kind hand of my friend, Khun Jirut Honghiranrattana, who helped me distribute the questionnaire in an American company and special thanks to staff in a Japanese company located in Wellgrow industrial park, Chacheongsoa and staff in an American company in Eastern Seaboard industrial park, Rayong for giving honest answers with high validity. Love and important thanks go to my mother who always supports and encourages me to spend most of the time studying in this program despite seeing her less.

Thammasat University
Bangkok, Thailand

Phattanan Apichaikul
March 2010