

Abstract

The thesis entitled "Guidelines to Develop Promotion and Supporting the Community Welfare Provision of Provincial Social Welfare Promotion Commission" aims to study the knowledge level in certifying people welfare organization to be community welfare organization, the opinion on promotion and supporting community welfare provision, and guidelines to develop promotion and supporting the community welfare provision of Provincial Social Welfare Promotion Commission. Samples of the survey were 278 persons of Provincial Social Welfare Promotion Commission of 75 provinces which included committee and secretary (The Provincial Social Development and Human Security Official), assistant secretary (officer of Provincial Social Development and Human Security Office), and committee (representative of Community Welfare Organization). The questionnaires were used as a data collection method. Moreover, the data were analyzed with the purpose of describe percentage, mean, standard deviation, t-test, F-test, and Chi-square. The findings are as follow:

The study showed that samples were mostly male gender, and the age range of 51-60 years old. As for the education background, most of samples were at least Bachelor Degree. Moreover, most of them were in the position of committee (representative of community welfare organization) with less than five years experience. The major responsibilities of them were to launch the policy, consider project, and provide consulting. As for knowledge level of samples in certifying people welfare organization to be community welfare organization was in the low level, excluding the knowledge in the evidence of certifying applicant and certifying applicant process was in the high level. Furthermore, the opinion of samples on promotion and supporting community welfare provision, most of them agreed with supporting the project that requested for subsidies. In addition, most of them strongly agreed with the concession of community welfare provision, and the role of representative of Community Welfare Organization of Provincial Social Welfare Promotion Commission.

Recommendation of this study, they should provide the knowledge in certifying people welfare organization to be community welfare organization, encourage the project that is supported by community welfare organization and followed the criteria of Social Welfare Promotion Fund, and review the policy, rules, criteria, and other regulations that concern with Social Welfare Promotion Fund and the Social Welfare Promotion Act, issue 2, B.E. 2550