ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am using this opportunity to express my gratitude to everyone who supported me, First of all I would like to thank my major-advisor, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Suvaluck Satumanatpan for her attentive support and kindness assistance. I grateful to my co-advisors, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Chumlong Arunlertaree and Assoc. Prof. Sayam Aroonsrimorakot for their comments, that greatly improved my research. I am extremely thankful and indebted to Asst. Prof. Patompong Saguanwong that give time to counsel and examine the results. I am equally pleased to thank the valuable guidance and kindness received from my chair of the Thesis Defense Committee, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Kungwan Juntarashote.

I would also like to thank all the lectures and staffs of Faculty of Environment and Resource Studies, Mahidol University. And many thanks to all the respondents who devoted their time and shared their opinions, that particularly useful for this research.

This research was supported by graduate research grants from National Research Council of Thailand, 2014. And my sincere thanks also goes to Faculty of Graduate Studies, Mahidol University, that provided partially bursaries and supported my academic presentation.

Most of all, I would like to special thanks my family. My dad, mom, and aunt, who always encourage me everything. My special thanks also goes to my friends and my classmates for all their help throughout this research. I would not be able to accomplishment without them. Thank you.
