ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research has been supported by my major advisor, Dr. Uthaiwan Suttisansanee for guidance and encouragement throughout my thesis and my co-advisors, Dr. Chalad Santivarangkana and Dr. Chaowanee Chupeerach, for suggestion and counselling. I especially thank Dr. Dalad Siriwan, the external chair committee of the thesis, for her valuable suggestions.

As well, I would like to thank Dr. Kalyarat Kruawan and Ms. Parunya Thiyajai for guidance on sample preparation, laboratory techniques and provision of equipment. I also thank all educational and research supporting staffs for their helpfulness and my friends from Nutrition graduated program, Institute of Nutrition, Mahidol University for their great friendship.

This research work is supported by the grant from The National Research Council of Thailand (NRCT), Graduated School.

Most importantly, I wish to express my infinite gratitude to my family for their love, encouragement, understanding, kindness and impulsion for my success, which are given to me throughout my life.
