

Research Title	The Study of Quality of Life of Borfie's Community to Enabling Sustainable
Researcher	Dr.Numpet Yoosakul
Organization	Tourist Industrial and Services School of Tourist Industrial and Services Huahin Center Suan Dusit University
Year	2017

According to 1st National Economic and Social Development's Plan since A.D 2504-2509 make agendas of Alleviation of Poverty and Income Distribution problems enhancing Thailand's competitiveness,promoting Social Capital development, promoting sustainable Development formulate strategies for key government policies and major development project which follow the Western's approaches therefore to study development extending communities's strengthen the balancing and sustainable must be considered (King Rama IX;2013) .The objectives of research is to suggest ways in which quality of life of Thai's society can be driven for future development.This study involved the use of qualitative serearch which study on theoretical and secondary data regarding quality of life .The quantitative aspect of survey involving biosocial ,environment, public health ,values and education which had relationship with life satisfaction .The study results of 271 sample found that the positive factors of biosocial such people owned their land and house show how wealthy of economy and properties to be take care and people do yearly health check and exercise frequently as well as people share same values in culture and norm but in negative environment factors of sound pollution from vehicle and smell from garbage had relationship with quality of life.

Key Words : Community's Strengthen, Balance and Sustainable Development, Concept