

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to thank my supervisor, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Yuwadee Peerapornpisal for giving me the opportunity to work. She has trusted my research ideas and provided valuable knowledge, encouragement and resources that have guided me throughout my Master and Ph.D programs. She is my best teacher and gave me the new name "Manita". Without her encouragement and support, this research would not be possible.

I would like to thank my co-advisors, Asst. Prof. Dr. Chartchai Khanongnuch for his guidance and encouragement. Lect. Dr. Wasu Pathom-aree, Lect. Dr. Jeeraporn Pekkoh are also gratefully acknowledged for their suggestions and guidance as well as their critical reading and comments.

Sincere by thank Lect. Dr. Sudaporn Tongsiri, for her teaching and help when I began my work at the Applied Algal Research Laboratory and persuading me to the postgraduate programs and for her reading and comments on the thesis.

Special thanks to Dr. Chayakorn Pumas for his suggestions, reading and comments, his patient in teaching me molecular biology and to Asst. Prof. Morakot Suchotiratana for correcting the drafts of the thesis.

This work was financially supported by the National Research Council of Thailand (NRCT), the King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambhai Barni Memorial Foundation and the Graduate School of Chiang Mai University. I would like to thank also the Conservation and Utilization of Biodiversity Project, Department of Biology, Faculty of Science, Nanoscience and Nanotechnology Center, Chiang Mai University for providing some research grant. Thanks to Queen Sirikit Botanical Garden, Chiang Mai in providing collection sites for cyanobacteria in this study.

Thanks to my friends, especially to Dr. Nuchnapa Kotabin and Dr. Thomrat Chatchawan for their assistance and many cheerful moments and to all current and past colleagues of Applied Algal Research Laboratory for their help, support and most importantly for making the laboratory an enjoyable place.

I am very grateful to my beloved parents, my father Mr. Pit Motham; my stepmother Mrs. Tim Motham, my sister Ms. Nathanan Motham and my brother Mr. Sattawat Motham who are always in my mind, for their love, their anxiety and their care that always turn me on throughout my life. Lastly I would like to devote this thesis for the commemoration of 25 years of my mother's death.

Manita Motham