

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My greatest thankfulness has been attributed to Asst. Prof. Anadi Nitithamyong, my major-advisor. Without her help and advice all the time of the experiment my thesis could not be finished. All the time of thesis work, she always gave me valuable guidance as well as encouragement in everything not only for my academic life but also for my real life. Her kindness made me really thankful from the bottom of my heart. Furthermore, I also would like to thank her for lots of opportunities to strengthen my skills in many tasks that will help my career in the future

My sincere gratefulness was also conferred to Asst. Prof. Somkiat Kosulwat, my co-advisor who always helped me in my laboratory work. Without his supervision and kindness, my academic life might not be as smooth and happy as it was.

Very special thanks were extended to Dr. Warunee Varayanond for her kindness to be the chair of my examination and for giving necessary suggestions to make my thesis complete.

I am also grateful to the help of Asst. Prof. Sitima Jittinandana and Lect. Nattapol Tangsuphoom for giving me the additional ideas as well as comments towards my thesis work. I am thankful for the kindness of Ms. Rungrat Chamchan and Mr. Somsak Mekkluen for their supports and assistance in laboratory equipments and facilities.

Besides, I would like to thank the National Corn and Sorghum Research Center in Nakhon Ratchasima Province for kindly giving corn silk, a raw material in this study. My thanks also went to the National Research Council of Thailand for the financial support

I am thankful to all of my friends and senior colleagues for supporting me via any way, especially Ms. Parunya Thiyajai, Ms. Numphung Rungraung, Ms. Panitnart Kanjanatiwat, Mr. Worayut Kongkaew, Ms. Rungnapa Tubsrison, Ms. Krittaluck Vijitragool, Ms. Narisara Panturat, Ms. Kanthidee Siripreecha, Ms. Phattira Taechakumtornkit and any other friends whom I did not mention here. Finally, for my family, I cannot find any word or phrase to express how lucky I am to be a part of my family. Without their support, I could not reach this point, indeed.

Fareeya Kulapichitr