ABSTRACT

This thesis is a study of the phonology of Ugong in Uthaithani Province.

The thesis is divided into 5 chapters. Chapter 1 gives some general information on the Ugong, the objective and scope of this study, and the methodology used. Chapters 2,3 and 4 describe the phonology of Ugong by starting from the highest to the lowest rank of the hierarchy : the Phonological Word to the Phoneme. Chapter 5 contains the conclusions and some suggestions for further studies.
