

Thesis Title : The Phonological Study of Northern Khmer
(Prakhonchai District, Buriram Province)

Author : Krissana Yodmongkhon

Degree : Master of Arts

Major Advisor : Associate Professor Ruengdet Pankhuenkhat

Department : Linguistics (Southeast Asian Linguistic Programe)

Faculty : The Faculty of Graduate Studies

Date of Graduation : June, 1986

ABSTRACT

This thesis presents the phonology of Northern Khmer Language which is spoken at Prakhonchai district, Buriram province.

The phonology in this study is seen as a hierarchy of ranks. Four ranks are set up : The phoneme, the syllable, the phonological word, and the intonation group.

This thesis is divided into six chapters. Chapter I is the introduction. Chapter 2 will describe about the phoneme. Chapter 3 will describe about the syllable. Chapter 4 will describe about the phonological word. Chapter 5 will describe about the intonation group. And the last one, Chapter 6, will be the conclusions and suggestions for further studies on Northern Khmer Language.