ABSTRACT

The purposes of independent study were to develop an Internet School Library Service System at Banhongrattanawittaya School Lamphun Province; and to promote the efficiency of the library service.

Tools which were used to develop the system were Microsoft Windows 98; the program language PHP Hypertext Preprocessor (PHP) for the user interface and MySQL for developing the database.

The system was evaluated by 20 samples who were personnels of the Banhongrattanawittaya School. The evaluation results confirmed that the developed system had an appropriate user interface design. The system was easy to use which resulted in speedy information retrieval , the accuracy of the data processing and the completeness of reports.
