First and foremost, I would like to thank my thesis advisor, Assistant Professor Dr. Chamiapak Maiklad, for her kind guidance, valuable suggestions, and insightful explanations. The completion of this study would not have been possible without her.

I am indebted to the principal of the ESP programme, Dr. Issariya Thaveesilpa, for her solicitude and great support throughout my study. My gratitude also goes to all the instructors of the ESP programme at the Faculty of Humanities, Kasetsart University, who have taught me and provided me with full academic guidance and support.

I also would like to extend my thanks to my organization, the Government Savings Bank, which granted me a scholarship to study in this programme. Moreover, I would like to express my appreciation to all the participants, the GBS staff, for their cooperation in providing useful information for this research.

I especially wish to thank my husband, Mr. Fabrice Meggiolaro, for his love, inspiration, belief in me and personal support. He is always by my side in good times as well as in difficult ones. Most importantly, thank you for being you.

Lastly, I wish to thank my parents, Mr. Phoowanat Prakobworakan and Mrs. Boonluea Prakobwarakan, for their love, care, understanding, and continuous encouragement during my study.
