Editor-in-Chief,

Vajira Medical Journal: Journal of Urban Medicine

In order to maintain the high standards of the Vajira Medical Journal: Journal of Urban Medicine, our editorial team relies on the expertise of numerous professionals. They play a pivotal role in determining the topics to explore, deciding which manuscripts to publish, and making necessary adjustments to ensure the scientific integrity and reliability of the information provided. This fosters the growth and advancement of medical and health science research. I deeply appreciate of the dedication and proficiency exhibited by the individuals who reviewed manuscripts for the journal from September 1st, 2022, through August 31st, 2023.
