ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis could not have been successfully completed without the great support and understanding of my beloved parents and my close cousins, willingly giving inestimable care and true love to me. Also, my inspiration and bravery to fulfil this thesis has always been lit up and marvelously blessed thanks to my old beloved friends, who studied with me when I was at Burapha University. I would really like to thank all of you for encouraging me and believing that I could finally finish my thesis and hold a Master's Degree.

I would also like to express my particular gratitude to all thesis advisors, especially Ajarn Dr. Issariya Thaveesilpa, due to the long continuing course of thesis production, and since she has devoted her entire being and precious time to read and give useful suggestions and comments on this study. I truly appreciate her willingness to help me finish my thesis according to the schedule. I would also like to thank Ajarn Stephen Cannell for checking and commenting on my research

I would really like to specially thank Ajarn Dr. Arnon Chaisuriyan at Burapha University for he usefully commented on my thesis and gave me a great opportunity to present my thesis at a conference which was held to honor the gracious principles of the self – sufficient economy of His Majesty the King Bhumibol Adulyadej.

Lastly, I would like to thank my classmates in the ESP program for understanding and help. I would like to give special thanks to Nui, Kaye, Cream, and Golf for constantly sending best wishes to help me complete this thesis and for their lasting friendship, encouragement, and kind suggestions. All memories born from the ESP programme are so strong and can never dissolve away.
