Besides being legal injured persons, the injured persons in sexual assault cases still suffer on lives, bodies, health including status in social and economic. Legal right of injured persons for claiming compensation and finding convicted person face with some legal problems and legal's rights protection

As the matter of fact, the scope of rape in Thai Penal Code is rather limited because legal requirement on rape is only penetrate the penis in the vagina of ordinary women except wife but there are some problems concerning sex assault which should be punished severely than petty offence but there is no such provision in Thai Penal Code. Moreover, there are some problems on criminal proceeding in Criminal Justice Agencies from investigation, prosecution and trial which suffer the injured persons on their mind and good names

However, there are a lot of problems concerning on the right of injured persons in sexual assault in Thailand while these go far in English speaking countries such as protection of the said injured persons in mental health, using police women for investigating, arranging some volunteer for taking care of or using circuit television in the court room and also giving compensation by State which the writer try to suggest in this theses.
