

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The completion of the study on Oral Communication Problems of Thai and Foreign Employees in Benchmark Electronics (Thailand) Co.,Ltd. would not have succeeded without the worthy guidance and support from several parties.

First of all, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to my beloved advisor, Aj. Wanna Charoenchang, who provided very valuable suggestions, support and encouragement to my study.

Next, I would like to thank all the instructors of the Language Institute at Thammasat University for the knowledge that helped build my basic expertise and inspired me to complete my research.

Then, I would also like to thank all my classmates who were always helpful and gave me motivation to succeed.

After that, I would like to sincerely thank my dear friend, Chutima Chaonafai for the devoting her time to help me collect data at Benchmark Electronics (Thailand) Co.,Ltd.

Finally, I would like to thank my parents and friends who always supported and encouraged me to reach my goal.
